Accident Occurs This Morning

16 Passengers, Driver of Bus Suffer Injuries

BEAUMONT — Four young Navy men from Miramar Naval Air Station were fatally injured at 3:56 a.m. today when their automobile collided head-on with a Greyhound Bus on U. S. Highway 60, four miles west of Beaumont.

According to the Highway Patrol, the bus was carrying 35 passengers, plus the driver, Claude Scannell of Covina. The driver and 16 passengers were treated at the San Gorgonio Pass Memorial Hospital for minor injuries.

THE DEAD NAVY men were identified by the CHP as Allan Sawyer, Daniel Lee Daelo, Raymond Anthony Bantini and David L. King. King was rushed to Pass Hospital where he died of injuries.

The Highway Patrol said that the youths in the car had apparently been passing a line of motorists "at high speed" and in an attempt to keep from overrunning a slow moving vehicle in the right lane, swerved in front of the Greyhound bus. The Patrol reported that fog was light and that visibility was good.

ONE OF THE 16 injured passengers was hospitalized for back injuries. He is 65-year-old Lloyd W. Dull of Akron, Ohio. Another passenger, Yoshinobu Pauchayama of Plattsburgh Air Force Base was treated for minor injuries and released to continue on his way home to Honolulu.

Spokesmen at Miramar said a team was flying here to make positive identification of the victims. Home towns of the four dead boys, all about 20 years old, have not been made available.

Texas Trucker Killed in Crash Of Two Trucks

INDIO — A Texas trucker was killed last night after a collision between two grain trucks on Highway 60-70 just six miles from Highway 99 on the Indio Hill.

J. William Filpot, 53, of Levelland, Texas, was dead at the scene after two trucks, both carrying grain, collided, one into the rear of the other, pinning the driver of the second truck in the cab. The truck burned.

The accident happened at 7:50 last night, and was handled by the California Highway Patrol at Indio.

Area Business Group to Decide Future at Meet

CATHEDRAL CITY — Members of the Cathedral City Area Business Association will decide at a luncheon meeting at Tops Drive-in Wednesday whether or not to continue as a separate organization, or to transfer its assets and activities to the Cathedral City Chamber of Commerce.

The latter action has been recommended by the association's executive committee. An explanation will be given at the meeting as to reasons for this recommendation.

Nation Watches

Stassen Battles GOP Organization

PITTSBURGH — Pennsylvania voters, including President Eisenhower, ballot today in a primary election attracting nationwide interest because of Harold E. Stassen's independent bid for the Republican nomination for governor.

Eisenhower, once served by Stassen as an adviser, has not indicated which Republican segment will receive his vote.

AFTER VOTING, the President will travel by helicopter to Harrisburg and board the presidential plane, Columbine III, for New York where he delivers a major speech tonight.

Cloudy to sunny skies, but no rain, were forecast.

Stassen, three-time governor of Minnesota, opposes Arthur T. McGonigle, Reading businessman who has the blessing of the GOP organization.

11 KILLED IN NEW AIR COLLISION BETWEEN AIRLINER, JET PLANE

Compromise Ruled Out In Lebanon

Both Sides Vow Fight to End In Statements

BEIRUT, Lebanon — (UPI) — A compromise attempt by middle of the road politicians to solve Lebanon's crisis failed today and opposition leaders vowed to fight pro-western President Camille Chamoun's government "to the end."

Opposition leaders met in the fortified home of National Union Front leader Saeb Salama in the Basta (Moslem) quarter of Beirut this morning to consider proposals for a compromise that would end the violence marked two-week struggle.

THE JITTERY government imposed press censorship for the first time since World War II, especially on news from Algeria where the insurgents were setting up a rival government dedicated to overthrowing Pflimlin.

Pflimlin goes before the National Assembly this afternoon to seek special powers for a renewed military effort against the Moslem rebels in Algeria. The step would appease the Algerian insurgents.

MOST OBSERVERS believed the Assembly would vote him those powers today. Failure to do so would mean the fall of the Pflimlin government with almost no alternative except to turn the nation over to De Gaulle.

The government maintained its powerful security precautions designed to crush either a pro-De Gaulle rightist revolt in Metropolitan France or an uprising by the Communists.

SOUL CALLED the Cabinet into session today to discuss again whether to lay charges before the United Nations Security Council that the United Arab Republic fomented the Lebanese trouble.

Government reports said three truckloads of Syrians burned the Lebanese border post of Al Abdouyein in North Lebanon after overwhelming the guards Monday.

THEY ALSO DISCLOSED that trouble had spread to south Lebanon with an attack that destroyed a gendarmerie post in Tibine. Up to now the violence had been concentrated in the north.

France Acts To Appear Army Rebels

Premier Seeks Stronger Policy Against Moslems

PARIS (UPI) — Premier Pierre Pflimlin sought today to appease the French insurgents in Algeria before their open defiance forces the government's surrender to Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

There was mounting pressure for the return of De Gaulle although his statement Monday that he was ready to take over power deepened the rift in France and may have brought a greater risk of bloodshed.

Rep. Burdick, 79, Asks Annulment

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Rep. Usher Burdick (R-N.D.), 79, wealthy rancher, has started legal action to annul his recent marriage to the former Mrs. Jean Rodgers, 30, it was disclosed today.

PROF. ARNOLDO Pozzi, attached to the Sanatrix Clinic where the cardinal was being treated, said he examined the patient with Rochetti at 8:30 a.m.

"He can move his right leg a little bit but he still cannot speak," Pozzi said.

The blockage in the brain was brought on a partial paralysis of the cardinal's right side.

FIRE COMPLETELY demolished a residence at the entrance to the city dump yesterday, and local firemen fought for more than an hour to extinguish the blaze. The building, a residence for three men, was filled with salvage, including tires, clothing and personal effects, all destroyed by the fire. Pictured above, firemen work under a nearly collapsing roof to clear out the clothing and boxes to get at the smoldering embers. According to Capt. Warren Empey, the three men who lived in the building were Al Funderburg, operator of the disposal site, Dan Reasons and Robert Cox. Cause of the fire was undetermined and no one was reported near the building when the fire started. (Desert Sun Photo).

Cardinal Stritch Shows Slight Improvement

ROME (UPI) — Samuel Cardinal Stritch spent a "satisfactory" night and recovered some movement of his right leg but still is speechless and in critical condition, his doctors reported today.

They were giving him anti-coagulants in an attempt to break up the clot or obstruction in the brain that caused a cerebral stroke Monday.

THE 70-YEAR-OLD archbishop of Chicago, who came here to become Pro-Perfect of the Roman Catholic Church's Sacred Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith, received Extreme Unction, administered to those believed dying, Monday night.

A medical bulletin issued at 9 a.m. said, "The general condition is satisfactory. There has been no worsening of his condition."

It was signed by Vatican Dr. Filippo Rocchi and Dr. Ralph Bergen of Chicago.

Dispute Between Council, Bond Consultant Continues

J. B. Hanauer, financial consultant for last year's $3,850,000 Sewer Bond election, and who was fired by the City of Palm Springs at the request of the Citizens Committee before the successful bond election this year, may be hired again by the city to sell the new bond issue.

Hanauer was present at the luncheon meeting of the council at the Chi Chi yesterday, and told the council that he would hand the brochure, the advertising of the bonds, and the sale, for $7,500.

AFTER ALMOST an hour of discussion, during which time the council had almost decided not to hire the consultant, but to turn the matter over to Director of Finance Shelby Langford, Hanauer dropped his price from $7,500 to an even $5,000 and City Manager Robert W. Peterson recommended that the proposition be accepted.

But the move by Hanauer in dropping his price so much and so quickly, was not looked upon by councilmen with much admiration.

It was signed by Vatican Dr. Filippo Rocchi and Dr. Ralph Bergen of Chicago.

COUNCILMAN GEORGE Beebe, who served on the Citizens Sewer Committee and who was against the hiring of the consultant to begin with, said that any man who would drop his figure so far, "especially after sitting with the council for almost an hour explaining to them that he couldn't do the job for less, in my estimation is not a good businessman."

HANAUER SAID yesterday that if the city hires the company on a new contract to sell the bonds, that the company "would wipe out the $9,000 debt which we believe, according to our attorneys, that we have coming."

The big disagreement in yesterday's session stemmed around whether the two contracts had anything to do with another.

One councilman put it simply to Hanauer, saying "if you think you have a claim against the city, sue us, but if we hire you to sell the bonds for us it is separate and divorced from the first contract."

Moderate Vote Recorded by Mid-Morning

Election officials reported a moderate turnout of school district voters in early balloting today for the two-man Board of Education contest.

Only 349 ballots were cast at six polling places by 10:30 a.m. today, election officials said.

Candidates are Herbert Hass, incumbent, and Dr. Bernard H. Poliak.

Morning precinct returns showed that 29 ballots were cast at Desert Hot Springs School, 28 at Cathedral City School, 110 at Katherine Finchy School, 110 at Cahillia School, 35 at Cleo Vista School and 37 at Old Ft. Oliver in Thousand Palms.

Western Strike Settlement Near

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Western Air Lines and the Air Line Pilots Assn. today were reported nearing a settlement of a strike which had dragged on for nearly three months, disrupting service in the West, Canada and Mexico.

She said she did not see the military plane.

"I SAW THE airliner about 300 feet from the ground when there was this loud noise and I saw it explode and crash to the ground," Mrs. Biles told the United Press.

"The plane split in two parts and then landed in two fields."

Dulles Says U.S. Is Ready to Act

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles served notice on Russia today that the United States will do what it considers is right and proper in any area of the world regardless of any Soviet threats.

Dulles' statement was a direct answer to weekend warnings by Russia that it could not stand idly by if the West intervened in strife-torn Lebanon.

Dulles told a news conference he does not consider it likely under present conditions that Lebanon will need any help in putting down threats from outside the country.

Dulles also indicated that the administration feels it has broad-

3 Former Grand Jury Foremen Endorse Proposed County Charter

Three former Riverside County Grand Jury foremen today endorsed the proposed county charter, asserting that its tighter controls on administration would save tax money.

Claiming that "law administrative supervision has cost the county money over the years," the former jury foremen felt that the charter's creation of a "strong county administrative officer" would relieve supervisors of their present administrative burden.

The endorsement was signed by Ed McCoubrey, of Palm Springs; William Watson, of Hemet, and Elvin I. Downs, of Corona.

Basil Brewer to Have Dormitory Named for Him at Northeast Missouri College

KIRKSVILLE, Mo. — Highest honors a college can bestow on an alumnus will be accorded Basil Brewer, publisher of The New Bedford, Mass., Standard-Times, winter resident in Palm Springs, in ceremonies at Northeast Missouri State Teachers College.

On May 23, Brewer will be the guest of honor at the cornerstone laying of a dormitory named for him, Brewer Hall, a handsome new addition to the campus at the Teachers College. The four-story brick building completes the main quadrangle of this pioneer institution in Missouri's teacher-education system.

LATER THE Massachusetts publisher and Mrs. Brewer will be guests of honor at Commencement exercises, at which Missouri Attorney General John M. Dalton will be the principal speaker. Lieutenant Governor Edward V. Long will represent Governor James T. Blair Jr. at the cornerstone ceremony, and former U. S. Senator Frank P. Briggs of Missouri will preside.

IN DISCLOSING that the college's board of regents had voted unanimously in selecting a name for the new hall, Dr. Walter H. Ryle, president of the institution, stated that Missouri-born Brewer "while becoming a great journalist of the nation" had remained "a vital force in creating and sustaining the college spirit on the campus."

For Brewer, the honor is another important milestone in a career that has taken him from printer's devil in his father's shop in Missouri to publisher-owner of newspapers, radio stations and aviation interests in Massachusetts.

THROUGH THE firm of E. Anthony and Sons, Inc., of New Bedford, in which he holds a controlling interest, he owns, besides the nationally respected New Bedford Standard-Times, the daily Cape Cod Standard-Times of Hyannis, Mass., radio stations WNBH of New Bedford and WOCB of West Yarmouth, Mass., and Massachusetts Air Industries, a diversified aviation facility.

The Brewer newspapers have won many awards for readership, public service and professional excellence. Their influence has been recognized at all levels of government. In his own right, the publisher's writing, especially editorials, have been widely praised and much reprinted.

IN THE 50-ODD years since he

was graduated from Northeast State, Brewer has continued close contact with and support of the college's affairs.

A graduate of the Class of 1901, he wrote the official college hymn, "Old Missou," during a post-graduate year teaching science at the college.

"This song is loved and sung wherever groups of former students assemble," said Dr. Ryle. "Today, such groups circle the globe."

IN 1942, BREWER presented to Kirkville college a portrait of its founder, Joseph Baldwin, and in 1949 and 1953 the publisher was invited back to be the principal speaker at Commencement.

THE 91-year-old college has an enrollment of approximately 4,000, with a faculty of nearly 100. The student body represents 35 States, Hawaii and Alaska and some 19 foreign countries. Among the alumni was the late General John J. Pershing.

THE NEW BREWER Hall has been 15 years in the planning, Dr. Ryle disclosed. Of fire-resistant brick, it contains 89 rooms, housing two students each, a large lounge on each of the four floors, study rooms and an apartment for the resident director.

Since he "went East" in 1931, Brewer has been paid recognition by three other institutions of high

Tanglefoot Tales

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The saying is that if a centipede stopped to think about putting one foot ahead of the other, he would fall on his face. That's how it is with writing difficult legislation. It is better for the lawmakers to — well, let 'er rip. If they get to dwelling upon the difficulty and intricacy of legislation, they could get nowhere.

Two examples of this thesis are presently on display in the Capitol, where subdivisions of the Senate Labor and Foreign Relations committees are meeting.

SENATOR J A C K Kennedy, chairman of the law-writing subcommittee of Labor, has probably the toughest assignment in town. No subject is as politically sizzling as this one. At the latest check he had 46 bills by 8 different Senators, but the number could easily be doubled by now. Kennedy's party is pledged to bring a committee bill to the Senate floor by June 10.

Nearly every political forecaster in town will be discredited if this happens. In the teeth of these adversities, the young chairman plugs doggedly ahead on what could be the make-or-break test of his presidential chances. If he stops to contemplate which foot to put first, he would be lost.

ANOTHER DEMOCRAT on the committee, Senator Wayne Morse, is working at cross-purposes with Kennedy, although the allegation would be denied. As a member and spokesman of the Demo - Laborites, Morse would like to prevent any Labor bill from reaching the floor in the current atmosphere created by the McClellan hearings on Labor-management rackets.

Morse is trying to talk the Kennedy inquiry to death. It is something the wag-jaw Oregonian, a tireless elocutionist and a former Law School Dean, is well equipped by nature to do. But since he is handicapped by a 10-minute rule in committee, Morse has been citing the centipede law. Daily he stresses the extreme complexity of writing legislation to cover 18 million workers in 62,000 union locals and all the interlocking relationship with industry. He is trying to give the committee a case of tanglefoot that will bring it to a halt.

AGAIN, THE lawmakers are in a fix. The British and French won't like it if the U. S. Senate comes out for life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. The Arabs will be furious if the Senate reaffirms the American position on Israel, and, to show any favoritism for Pan-Arabia would open the vials of Zion's wrath.

As it happens, Foreign Relations is far from being the lamest committee in the Senate. Several of its members are up in years. One of them, not the chairman, can't read without moving his lips and murmuring the words — a disconcerting mannerism, injurious to the committee's dignity, embarrassing to witnesses. The difficulties are so imposing and the talent so spotty, that this committee has every excuse to be stayed.

"They say it's difficult. I don't believe it's any harder than writing a reclamation act! All we need do is make up our minds what we want — and then do it. We want liberation of the union members from the union bosses. So, let's write it just that way."

ON THE FLOOR below the Old Supreme Court chamber where the Kennedy group meets, the Foreign Relations committee sits in cozy quarters under Senator Green. The assignment in this instance is difficult, not through complexity but through vagueness and abstraction.

bond issues fall so far below the mark in meeting your school needs. Rarely have I seen a school system as top - heavy in unproductive administrative personnel as to be found in this school district.

I understand how little money may be left to provide the essential classroom teachers and janitors after these well - paid but useless administrative officers have received their salaries. I am told on good authority that as few as 4 janitors must maintain the large high school plant.

This timetable allot 10 minutes per room, at the end of which time the janitor goes on to the next room. As a result he must often leave his pile of sweepings in the middle of the floor in order to stay within the 10 minute allotment and get on to the next room.

May I suggest that the interested populace investigate the use to which their school funds are being put and let this be the standard by which they clean house.

Although only a visitor, have listened with interest to some authoritative remarks about your public schools and noted letters to the paper.

May an outsider who has had wide experience in the matter suggest that you taxpayers might well save above $60,000 in salaries paid to unproductive personnel brought in by your going superintendent and use such moneys for classroom teachers, janitors, and equipment.

DEAR ABBY: I could have kissed the words in the paper when you said the adopted child was "wanted, twice." First by the real mother and again by the adopted mother. I was an unwed mother and I gave up my child because I knew she would have a better chance in life if I did. The lawyer told me when I signed my baby girl away that my kind of mother love was the highest and most unselfish love in the world because I gave away my flesh and blood for HER own good. Not mine. Those words have kept me going for sixteen years, Abby. The adopted child IS wanted twice, all right. I will tell the world from my own experience.

UNWED MOTHER

DEAR ABBY: My husband bought his mother a gas stove five years ago. She picked it out herself to be sure she got what she wanted. She decided she didn't like it, so he traded it in on an electric stove. Now she says she would rather have the gas stove back again. Today he is trading her electric stove for gas. I have been using an old second-hand wood stove ever since I was married, 14 years ago. What do you think of that?

DEAR ABBY: After having six boys, we had a baby girl. She was born on St. Patrick's Day and my husband got drunk and carried on for six days. Our little red-haired, blue-eyed girl is almost four years old now, and she is so spoiled she acts like she is the only child in the house. My husband lets her sleep with us (in the middle) and there is no getting her to sleep in her own little bed and I get up and sleep on the couch. She absolutely refuses to sleep anywhere else and I can't do a thing with her. Can you please tell me what to do? A. O. B.

DEAR MRS. O'B: Stop using the couch at night or you'll be needing one during the daytime, too. Make it plain that this child MUST sleep in her own bed—

DEAR ABBY: My husband bought his mother a gas stove five years ago. She picked it out herself to be sure she got what she wanted. She decided she didn't like it, so he traded it in on an electric stove. Now she says she would rather have the gas stove back again. Today he is trading her electric stove for gas. I have been using an old second-hand wood stove ever since I was married, 14 years ago. What do you think of that?

Saund's Life Story Told in Life's International Edition

The life story of Congressman D. S. Saund of the 29th Congressional District is featured all over the world this week in a six-page article in the International and Spanish editions of Life Magazine.

Saund's story, profusely illustrated, is told in English in the International edition, which was published on May 12 for worldwide distribution.

A SPANISH-LANGUAGE version appears in the Spanish edition, which is sold in Spain, Portugal, the Philippines, 17 Central and South American countries and Puerto Rico.

Although the magazines are not being sold in the United States, copies are available to readers of Riverside and Imperial Counties at public libraries, barber shops, beauty parlors and other public places.

THE ARTICLE, written by Robert W. Glasgow, Life's correspondent in Los Angeles, is the fourth in a "Great Immigrant" series. Previous articles in the series have described the careers of Igor Sikorsky, helicopter pioneer; Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter and Helena Rubenstein, beauty culturist.

Titled "From Chhajalwadi to the U.S. Congress," the article bears the caption, "India-born Dalip Saund has won unique prestige in America."

IT DESCRIBED SAUND'S career from his youth in India's Punjab to his dramatic return to his native land last year, after 37 years' absence, as a representative of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the House of Representatives.

A full-page picture shows the 29th District congressman standing in front of the U. S. Capitol in Washington. He is also pictured with Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn and with the Speaker of the lower House of India when Saund addressed the Parliament of India, an honor usually bestowed only on heads of state.

SAUND AND HIS wife are shown bedecked with floral wreaths when thousands welcomed him to his native village of Chhajalwadi. The congressman is also pictured with other members of his family and with his opponent in the 1956 election whom he defeated in the most-publicized congressional campaign in the country.

The article relates how Saund, as a young student in India, was inspired by the writings of Woodrow Wilson and Abraham Lincoln. It describes his student days at the University of California at Berkeley, where he won a Ph. D. in mathematics; his experiences as a farmer in Imperial Valley; his fight for citizenship rights for natives of India; his election to Judge of Westmoreland Justice Court after he became a citizen; his dramatic election as the first Asian to serve in Congress, and his 15-nation tour of the Far East, India and Europe last winter.

REV. FATHER C. NORMAN RALEY, right, is currently writing his life story and has retired his priesthood. He is living in a private room at St. Francis Hospital in Compton, and has asked his many friends here to visit him. The 88-year old ex-Palm Springs priest was very well known locally, and among his friends were some of moviedom's great names including Bing Crosby, at left.

HE WAS GIVEN a home for life by George Nevins, postmaster of Huntington Park, but had to give up the home because of not having care. He is now a guest for life of the Sisters of St. Francis in Compton.

To his many friends in Palm Springs, Milton and Harold Hicks, Eugene Therieu, Jack Dempsey, Dr. F. A. Purcell, and many others, Father Norman Raley is not only a religious leader of an era, but a close friend and buddy.

FATHER RALEY hopes that his many friends will come and visit him and said that "it is not necessary to stop at the front desk and ask for me, my door is always open."

It was Father Raley who worked here in Palm Springs to secure the painted glass windows now in Our Lady of Solitude, and with his many friends here and in Big Bear he was responsible for the securing of the chimes in the church there.

Completely New Dial Telephone System Installed in Desert Hospital by Company

A completely new dial telephone system provided by the California Water & Telephone Company with all features associated with this type of operation, has been installed in the Desert Hospital and is now serving this enlarged facility.

The new telephone system provides the same type of dial service available to all telephone subscribers in the community except that the switching equipment is located on the premises of the Desert Hospital.

THIS SYSTEM incorporating facilities for future growth, manufactured by Automatic Electric Company, and installed by California Water & Telephone Company, provides service in patient rooms as well as service for all hospital personnel. For greater protection to the patients, the alarm circuits are wired so that warning lights appear locally at the hospital and also at the main office of the telephone company in case of trouble in the equipment.

This system is equipped in such a way that calls between all telephones in the hospital can be dialed direct with the assistance of an operator. The same is true in making outgoing calls beyond the premises of the hospital, however the equipment is so designed that any telephone may be restricted from making calls to the outside, if so desired.

A SPECIAL conference circuit is built into the system, whereby as many as four individuals can talk together for consultation purposes or other matters. This system incorporating the very

Members of the Palm Springs police reserve will be honored tonight at a barbecue dinner hosted by the Palm Springs Police Association.

The dinner is scheduled for 7 p.m. at the Desert Inn.

The reserve force is headed by Capt. Louis Kraft, Lt. Julius Edelstein and Sgts. Leo Cruse, Wilbur Neblung and Lester Hurst.

The first post office in Arkansas was established in Davidsonville, Lawrence County, in 1817. Soon thereafter, the second was established at Arkansas Post.

AN ESKIMO VILLAGE, tabletop size, was created by children of the second and third grade classroom of Alyne Kemp at Cathedral City School as part of a student project involved in the study of natives of the frozen north. Children also prepared notebooks and made

Cathedral City Students Complete Area's Strangest Building Project—Igloo Village

CATHEDRAL CITY — Second and third grade pupils have completed the desert area's newest and strangest "construction project" at Cathedral City School—a complete igloo village.

But the ice in this igloo city is paper mache and clay, carefully shaped to produce a typical Eskimo community.

THE TABLETOP project was created by pupils in the second-third grade classroom of Mrs. Alyne Kemp in a study program designed to acquaint youngsters with the life of the Eskimo.

In addition to their carefully detailed village, which includes painted and dressed figures of Eskimos and their animals, the pupils made free-hand drawings of Eskimos, kayaks and implements used in the daily life of the native Alaskan.

STUDENTS ALSO wrote stories to accompany the drawings and several youngsters molded clay pottery, decorated with Eskimo designs.

"This study on the life of the Eskimo," Mrs. Kemp explained, "is valuable for the contrast it provides between the standards of living we enjoy and those of the people living in the frozen lands of North America."

Auto Safety Demonstration Set for May 23

Officers of the California Highway Patrol and the Farmers Insurance Group Safety Foundation will stage an auto safety demonstration at Palm Springs High School at 9 a.m. May 23.

The demonstration is part of Farmers program to "improve driving habits of drivers under 25 years" and to aid driver education.

Major objectives of the classes were "to find out where the Eskimo lives, how climate has affected his way of living, to learn about his occupation, inventions and language and to better understand all people of the world."

PUPILS WHO worked on the project included Ricky Amundson, Vickie Barry, Donna Boland, Michelle Baughner, Anita Addessi, Freddy Brown, Connie Christensen, Richard Dobbs, Dennis Dickson and Karl Deverman.

Others were Gregory Greenwood, John Addessi, Karen Groves, Don Fleming, Curtis Kastoff, Billy Kaminsky, Rosedell Marx, Vicki McFarland, Kathy Davall, Susan Parsons and Gary Snow.

Signalling Is Required, Warns Highway Patrol

Signal your intention before making lane changes or turns when other vehicles may be affected, warns the California Highway Patrol.

"Failure to signal or give adequate signals before changing lanes or turning is the cause of many intersection crashes and side-swipe collisions on multi-lane highways," stated Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell.

"ADEQUATE SIGNALS include hand and arm or signal device, properly indicating the anticipated action, given continuously during the last 100 feet traveled by the vehicle before changing the course of travel.

"Generally, hand and arm signals during daylight hours and signal devices at night are most practical," Caldwell continued. "It should also be remembered that a signal is required when slowing down or stopping.

"ONE OF THE basic reasons for signals is to let the other driver know what moves you expect to make, thus enabling him to adjust his driving accordingly," he concluded.

"Positive signals properly given will add considerably to the smooth flow of traffic and help prevent collisions involving turning movements."

Lt. Chorebanian Arrives in Korea

Army 1st Lt. Aram M. Chorebanian, whose mother, Mrs. Z. Chorebanian, lives in Palm Springs, recently arrived in Korea and is now a member of the 8th Artillery.

Lt. Chorebanian, commander of the artillery's Headquarters Battery, was last stationed at Fort Campbell, Ky. He entered the army in August 1951.

A member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, the 26-year-old officer is a 1947 graduate of Classical High School, Lynn, Mass., and a 1951 graduate of Dartmouth College. His wife, Nancy, lives in Hamlet, N.C.

He attributed the cause of department resignations to lack of "good leadership and job security."

Kovely explained that it costs more than $15,000 in salary and takes three years to train an efficient law enforcement officer.

"Every time one of them quits or is fired, this amount represents a total waste on the deputy who leaves, plus the additional $15,000 necessary to train his replacement," Kovely said.

Kovely claimed that a total of 60 department employees have quit or been fired in the past five years, costing about $2 million.

Safety Council's Award of Merit Given to Callectric

California Electric Power Company today became the recipient of the National Safety Council's Award of Merit for an outstanding industrial safety record during 1957.

The Award of Merit, highest rated safety award received by the company, was presented in recognition of its safety record in electric generating plants, office operations and construction activity including erection of new transmission and distribution lines and substations.

During 1957 Callectric reduced its number of lost-time industrial accidents by 29 per cent despite continued expansion and a heavy construction schedule. The 1957 record represents more than a 50 percent reduction in Callectric's accident frequency rate over the past six years.

Barretts Are Hosts At Fabulous Oriental Party

Fabulous was the word for the Oriental Party which George and Marcia Barrett gave at their Driftwood Drive home in the Deep Well area on Friday night. Most of the 120 guests were in costume and the Barretts' big house, which has a Chinese decor, was a perfect setting.

In addition to the floodlights that highlight the garden, there was the glow of huge Chinese lanterns.

Pat Barbara's orchestra and the dance floor were across the pool from the house and in between a flotilla of small lighted lanterns drifted in the lighted swimming pool.

A bare-branched tree, tied with tiny lanterns and Chinese fortune cookies stood by the door, and two embroidered satin panels, about eight feet long, were hung on poles at each end of the garden, and a huge bouquet of exotic birds of paradise indoors added to the atmosphere.

One bar was set up indoors and another faced on to the rear patio.

The charming hostess received her guests wearing a tunic costume, and her hair, which is normally a spectacular silver, had been darkened and arranged in oriental fashion with ornaments in it.

The diningroom table had an exciting array of canapes, including egg roll made with wonton, rumakis, and similar oriental delicacies. Santos served the dinner buffet style from a long table set up at one end of the pool, and dinner tables were moved into the big patio by the house. There were all kinds of Chinese foods, including chow mein, egg foo young, chicken curry with rice and coconut, chop suey, and ginger, spare ribs.

It was a brilliant scene as the costumed guests gathered about the tables and shot the bottled serpentine into the air, with the silken strands exploding high overhead.

Costumes were colorful and among the most exciting were the princely robes worn by Jock Williamson, whose costly, richly embroidered satin robes were topped by an intricate headpiece which had kingfisher feathers worked into it, and the 20-year-old ceremonial robes worn by Jamie Ballard and Ed Ness Jr. There were many variations of the coolie costume with Manuel Alvarez the most amazing. His makeup included a blacked-out front tooth and skillfully penciled eye and hair lines that made him practically unrecognizable. Dorothy Gray Brown was a delightful geisha girl, with a kimono and mounds of coal black hair.

The Waiaha Clarkes (they'd just flown in from two weeks in Honolulu . . . where they've been on business connected with their new Beverly Hills shop) were picturesque figures, and Waiaha had temple bells jingling from his straw top hat.

The Barretts' houseguests were the Ed Thrashers of Lido, and Jamie Ballard. The Bill Tomberlings and Darryl Herrons were there from Beverly Hills; Bill Breerton had flown over from Denver for the party; and from Los Angeles Mrs. Ed Ness Sr. and Ed Ness Jr., and Reg Colins.

Others in the merry crowd were: newly-engaged Marguerite Trousdale and Dean Peck, Gerri Handwork, Ramona and Morry Smith, the Glenn Thomas, Jimmy Hart of Chicago's Ambassador East-West, Jack and Helen Kenaston, the Al Hunts, Frank Bogerts, Billy Malouf, Sally and Holly Morse (just back from two weeks in San Francisco), Dr. and Mrs. Robert Morrey, the Harry Joe Browns, Ray Corless, Russ Wades, Frank Ryans, Gordon Prentiss, Norm and Peg Waters, the Barney Hinkles.

Also: the James Hammonds, Howard Morris, Walter Siberts, George Robersons, Co Thorntons, Edwin Silversmans, Dolph Bremers, Mary and Ken Evans, Judy Howard, Robin Barnes, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Purcell, Bill Boggess, Morry Smiths, Harold Hicks, Winsome Courtney (on a cane and nursing her broken toe), and more.

Pageantry of the kind that would make a fabulous tapestry . . . was the luau scene at Shadow Mountain Club Saturday night . . . when close to 600 costumed members and guests gathered for the big annual luau . . . Colored lanterns strung overhead . . . were reflected in the giant figure eight swimming pool . . . where flower-laden barges were floating in colorful fashion . . . Palm trees added to the illusion . . . and grass shacks topped the big water slides on each side of the pool-spanning stage . . . Candlelighted bouquets on the tables around the pool . . . added to the colorful scene . . . that was heightened by the Island music . . .

As we entered the big front gates . . . Freddie Letuli was sitting there weaving hats . . . the kind I call "halo hats" . . . and crowds of costumed people . . . wearing muumuu, sarongs, and oriental garb . . . were drifting up and down the broad steps and terrace . . . and about the poolside area . . . standing in line for food . . . or sitting at their poolside tables eating . . .

We were at Shadow Mountain Club president Ted Smith's table . . . and found some fellow Hoosiers in their party . . . the Carl Happersbergers of Indianapolis . . . Others were the Elliott Olds of Manhattan Beach . . . and the Howard McAloneys of Arcadia and Palm Desert . . .

Paid a visit to Edith Eddy Ward's cabana . . . to say "alo-ha" to Jeanette MacDonald and Gene Raymond . . . and the Bill Boyd's . . .

There was such a variety of food that even the ones who piled their plates high . . . couldn't sample everything . . . The boatloads of shrimp . . . and the piles of fresh fruits and melons . . . were just a small part of the luau feast . . . which offered almost everything you can think of . . .

The show was wonderful . . . the music of the Island Serenaders and the high sweet voice of George Kainapau . . . had a perfect setting . . . for they stood under a palm tree at the end of the bridge that spanned the big figure eight swimming pool . . . where little barges of flowers floated in the water . . . The dancing maidens doing the hula in their grass skirts . . . and the exciting sword and fire dances . . . make unforgettable pictures in the memory of all who were there . . .

The delightful playhouse at the Via Las Palmas home of Vicki and Billy Malouf was the scene of an all day party Sunday as this pair who are famous for their parties . . . gave the last of the season . . .

Guests came from far and wide . . . with many of their Los Angeles friends driving down for the day . . . The George Davies were there . . . He's mayor of Beverly Hills again . . . and the Arthur Berghs . . . Nina Anderson . . . just back from four months holidaying in Mexico, Cuba . . . New York . . . Lila Britton and Allan Chase . . . Dr. and Mrs. Norman O'Neill . . . the George Barracoughs former Villagers Kenneth Colburns, Bob Howes, Francis Whelans . . . Ruby and Ed Fallgren . . . Ed's first appearance in public since his recent illness . . . and he's looking great . . . The Ken Kirks . . . Ken had to leave to put in an appearance at the open house at Desert Hospital . . .

Dorothy and Dan Dunlap were there and Dorothy was wearing an orchid celebrating their 18th wedding anniversary . . . The John Stauffers (Beverly) was beating a drum for Knowland . . . and everyone who contributed got to beat the drum too . . .

There was a delightful brunch prepared by Santos . . . cards in the afternoon . . . and Judge and Mrs. Julian Hazard, Joe Spata and his musicians play-

The Don Camerons' home on the greens at Indian Wells Country Club, was the scene of a cocktail party Saturday night, with many dropping in on their way to the Shadow Mountain luau. Assisting the hostess was her niece Mrs. Pat Raymond (the former Sue Durant).

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK — It's an old question in golf whether Ben Hogan can win the U.S. Open again or if Sam Snead can win it once, but current performances and the relentless advance of the years made it more intriguing than ever today.

Bantam Ben has won it four times to match the mark of ancient Willie Anderson and the immortal Bobby Jones, needing but one more to move into a class by himself. Snead has been a haunted second on four occasions and this one deficit mars a fabulous fairway career.

Although each will be 46 soon — Sam next week and Hogan in August — they showed last week end that each still has the necessary shots.

THE SLAMMER won the Greenbrier Invitation by beating 22-year-old Gary Player, one of the brightest young stars, in a play-off. Hogan finished second to them over the regulation distance, just one shot back.

"It proved that, if either one of them still played the tournament circuit, each of them would win far more than his share of events," comments Jimmy Demaret.

Don't sell Jimmy's observation short merely on the fact that he is speaking about two old friends. Remember that it was Demaret, 47 at the time, who was the sensation of last year's open at Toledo when he finished just one shot back of deadlocked Dick Mayer and Cary Middlecoff.

WITHOUT BEING SENTIMENTAL, you have to class both Snead and Hogan among the favorites for the approaching Open at Southern Hills Country Club in Tulsa, June 12-14.

Hogan must be rated an even greater threat than Snead, because the little iceman doesn't bear the emotional burden which is Snead's. Sam must beat a mental hazard as well as that Southern Hills' par because of those four sorrowful seconds.

"If I had won it the first time, I might have won a half dozen," he admits dolefully.

That first was in 1937, in his open debut, when he set a record 235 and sat helplessly in the clubhouse while Ralph Guldahl lowered the new record by two more shots. In 1939, Sam needed a par five on the last hole to win and chopped out an eight. In 1947 he tied Lew Worsham and, in the playoff, bled a 35 inch putt to lose. Then, in 1953, he finished a par second to Hogan.

"If I need TOURNAMENT play to get ready," Sam says now, heading for the Western Open as a tuneup for another bid.

Snead was up there after the third round of the Masters and led with nine holes to go at Greensboro. Winning at Greenbrier gave him an added lift and, being as strong as horse physically, old Sambo still could do it.

Either one of them might hit the top at Tulsa.

O'Brien Sets New Shot Put Record

Parry O'Brien, world shot put champion, a resident of Palm Springs and assistant manager of the City National Bank's local office, came back to the Village last weekend with a new record to his credit.

In competition in the Coliseum Relays in Los Angeles Friday night, he headed the 16-pound ball 61 feet, 11 inches for a new meet record.

The former Coliseum Relays record was 60 feet, 10 1/2 inches, made by Bill Nieder, U. S. Army in 1957. Nieder was second to O'Brien last Friday night with a mark of 60 feet.

Moon Goddess 'Sweet Sue Evans' Protests Use of 'Sweet' on Album

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "Sweet Sue Evans" — that's how the young singer who's Marilyn Cleek in Palm Springs is billed on her first record album.

Sue, who changed her name for professional reasons, fought vigorously against that "sweet" label.

"I AM NOT SWEET" she screamed at her record company bosses — screamed, which she doesn't usually do, to make her point.

"But they told me 'sweet' and 'Sue' should always go together, so I'm stuck with it," she explained.

Sue is actually a daring gal. If you read the papers three months ago, you might have seen her picture and the story reporting that she wanted to be the first women to go to the moon.

"Only thing is, I'd want to be sure they could bring me back to earth again."

As far as her family is concerned, Sue is daring just by working at a career.

SHE'S THE daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Cleek of 1540 Sagebrush Rd., Palm Springs. Her father, now retired, was president of a bank in Kelso, Wash.

Sue always loved to sing, and her mother who (says Sue) is a frustrated dancer, encouraged her. She also encouraged her to learn to play the harp, "because she

Caviar Price Up in Russia

MOSCOW — The retail price of caviar has gone up 50 per cent in Russia. The price was boosted from 130 rubles ($32.94) at the arbitrary official rate of exchange per kilo, 2.2 pounds, to 190 rubles ($47.50).

Mass. Carnations

BOSTON — (UPI) — If all the carnations grown in Massachusetts in a single year were laid end to end, they would girdle the earth 12 times, says the Massachusetts Department of Commerce. The 292 growers in the state produce a total of about 65 million blooms annually. The carnations are valued at $4,800,000.

"I WENT TO ALL the hotels and I'd say very firmly, 'I play the harp and I sing. I like your hotel very much. Will you hire me? They must have thought I was crazy,'" she laughed.

"But they were actually very kind. I remember one of them grinned and said, 'Are you new in town?' Another told me to get myself an agent.

"Finally I went to the Plaza and they told me to wait for the manager in the dining room. A waiter asked me what I wanted to eat and I told him 'Six prunes.' He thought I was nuts, but I explained I was on a diet which specified: 'Lunch — 6 prunes.'

"WITH THE PRUNES, the waiter also brought me a message from the manager: He wasn't hiring anyone. So I ate my prunes and left.

"That," she shuddered, "was how I job-hunted for days in New York."

Finally she was hired by a Brooklyn supper club.

Her parents flew up for the occasion, but they almost took Sue home before she even sang a note.

"WHERE IS YOUR dressing room, dear?" her mother asked.

"You're in it," Sue said.

"But this . . ." her mother spluttered, "is a . . . a . . . ladies room!"

"That's right mom," Sue grinned, and her career might have ended right there, except that she is a very strong-willed young lady.

In fact — don't be too sure she won't be the first woman to get to the moon.

Snow Explanation

SYRACUSE, N. Y. — (UPI) Syracuse University's Prof. Benjamin Burt melt the favorite theory of snow-shovelers when he explained wet snow weighs no more than dry snow. He said a shovelful of wet snow may seem to weigh more than a shovelful of dry snow but that is because snow becomes more dense when wet and thus a shovel can scoop up more wet snow.

Farmers Fair Makes Annual Offer of Free Zinnia Seeds

Free zinnia seeds are now available at the Hemet Fairgrounds office, to residents of Riverside County. Bud Nelson, Fair manager, announced this week.

Offering of the free packets of seed is an annual project of the Fair management aimed at encouraging growing of the flowers in time for entry at the Fair beginning Aug. 20 through 24.

PACKETS OF THE seed, including instructions for planting and culture may be obtained either by calling at the Fairgrounds office or mailing a request to: Farmers Fair, P. O. Box 398, Hemet.

Each package of seed is marked by color and planting time recommended by horticulturists is the first two weeks of June. This planting time should bring the blooms to their height of culture for the August Fair dates when amateur growers may enter their flowers in the Floriculture department competition.

THIS YEAR THERE WILL BE 14

competitive classes, with cash awards offered winners in each,

Nelson said.

Growers may enter their display stems in any or all of the 14 classes, each of the two days of judging.

The seed are of the large flower variety and the same as are grown each year in the large flower beds at the Fairgrounds, Nelson stated.

Poppies Made by Disabled Vets Received Here

Memorial poppies which will be worn here on Poppy Day, May 23, have been received by Owen Coffman Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary from the veterans hospital at Long Beach where they were made by disabled veterans. The little red flowers were made ready for distribution by volunteer workers of the Auxiliary.

"The memorial poppy is a crepe paper replica of the wild European poppy which bloomed in profusion on the world war battlefields and cemeteries in France and Belgium," Mrs. Ellen Biavaschi, Auxiliary president explained. "The World War I poem, 'In Flanders Fields,' told the world about these poppies, and soon after that war the poppy became the memorial flower for the war dead throughout the English speaking world."

"Making the flowers provides interesting and beneficial employment for thousands of veterans they make."

The service you get at a Union Oil Station embraces more than your car. For one thing, you know you'll find clean rest rooms. The rule is: Inspection every hour on the hour.

This is a routine part of Minute Man service. But it is one of the tremendous trifles that make this service so thorough, so swift, so complete.

Our customers tell us once you've tried Minute Man service you're not likely to be satisfied with anything less. Because (the customers add) the service you get at a Union Oil station is as good as the gasoline.

This is exorbitant praise because the gasoline is the West's most powerful premium—new Royal 76.

Minute Man Service plus new Royal 76 gasoline. Reason enough to make your next stop the sign of the big 76 where—you know you always get the finest.
